Court Process

The U.S. Court of Appeals for Veterans Claims provides judicial review of the final decisions by the Board of Veterans' Appeals (BVA or Board). The Court reviews the BVA decision, the written record, and the briefs of the parties.

A person who files an appeal at the Court is called an "appellant." An appellant appealing a BVA decision is bringing legal action against the Secretary of Veterans Affairs, who is also referred to as the "Secretary" or "appellee."
